

CALL AND PROGRAM

67TH EDITION OF THE NORDIC BRIGADE OF SOLIDARITY WITH CUBA

The Cuban People, with a long tradition of brotherhood and fraternity with the peoples of the world, have the honor of inviting friends of Cuba in Europe to participate in the 67th edition of the Nordic Brigade of Voluntary Work and Solidarity with Cuba.

The activities program of this solidarity project is dedicated to commemorating the Centenary of the birth of Commander in Chief Fidel Castro Ruz, Historical Leader of the Cuban Revolution and global symbol of anti-imperialist resistance and international solidarity. Through meetings, tours, and voluntary work days, brigade members will be able to learn about his legacy and understand the relevance of his thinking within the Cuban social project.

At the present time, when the current U.S. administration maintains a ruthless and aggressive policy of asphyxiation against the Cuban people, the visit of friends and sympathizers of our country and our social project becomes essential and constitutes clear evidence that Cuba is not alone.

As is traditional, visits to places of historical, economic, cultural, and social interest are included, as well as meetings with representatives of political and mass organizations, and other activities and exchanges that will allow participants of this edition to gain first-hand knowledge of the achievements and current challenges of the Cuban revolutionary project, as well as the impact of the intensified economic, commercial, and financial blockade imposed by the U.S. government for over six decades.

The activities program will take place from November 23 to December 6, 2026, in the provinces of Havana, Artemisa, Villa Clara, and Santiago de Cuba, with 14 nights of stay, 10 in Artemisa, 1 in Santa Clara, and 3 in Santiago de Cuba and the last one in Havana

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

1. Total cost of the program: 700 Euros. It includes accommodation in shared rooms, full board, transfer in – out from José Martí International Airport in Havana to the accommodation (provided arrival coincides with the start and end dates of the brigade), and transportation to all activities scheduled in the program.

2. The payment on this occasion is in CASH and in EUROS.

3. It is an ESSENTIAL CONDITION to travel with medical insurance that has coverage in Cuba.

4. Brigade members arriving in Cuba on November 21 and wishing to stay at the camp will be picked up at the airport and must pay an additional supplement of 20.00 Euros for that night, for accommodation and meals.
